LISTON (LEE) TAYLOR

Taylor named county agent for Hancock

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors named Liston (Lee) Taylor as County Agent at their Tuesday meeting.

Taylor, a native of Perry County received his BS in animal science in 1978, and was awarded a master's degree in agricultural and extension education in 1978 from Mississippi State University.

He is married to the former Carol Minter of Jennings, La. and they are the parents of one son, Steven, age three, and one daughter, Amy, age one. Taylor was the 4-H Agent in Waynesboro, and has been with the Mississippi Extension Service since 1977.

In accepting the new position Taylor commented, "I am looking forward to my new position here and servicing the people of Hancock County including Bay St. Louis and Waveland."

"We have a good staff of people whom I will be joining in the extension services for the county," Taylor added. Taylor replaces John Smith who retired on August 31 after a lengthy service as county agent.

Aldermen urge decision in hospital site controversy

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Bay St. Louis City Board of Aldermen Tuesday night urged a decision on the hospital site controversy. The board, which met in a special session, heard testimony from Milford Lady, owner of the Waveland Resort Inn, who offered 20 acres of land for a new county hospital. The board also heard from Jody Gex, city attorney, who advised that the city could not accept the offer without a referendum. The board then adjourned until next Tuesday night.

Reflecting $140,000 increase

New Waveland budget about $2.5 million

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The City of Waveland's 1983-84 fiscal year budget is some $2.5 million.

Mayor John Longo reported Wednesday that the budget, about $140,000 more than the present 1982-83 fiscal year projection, generally reflects expected increased revenues from utility fees and property taxes resulting from the Century Subdivision apartment complex on US-90 under construction and an estimated $56,355 cash carryover from this year.

Based on Waveland's 1983-84 budget, approved by the City Board of Aldermen at its regular Tuesday night meeting, the municipality is expected to be $60,265 in the black by the end of that fiscal year.

The city's fiscal year ends on Sept. 30. Longo attributes the year-end positive cash balances to the city's short-term investment of idle funds.

Significant budget expenditure increases from the previous year to the new year include the city general fund from $1,002,500 to $1,027,020; library fund from $7,700 to $19,400; sewerage fund from $325,758 to $343,490; and water and gas fund from $308,473 to $302,680.

Longo explained the increased library expenditure reflects a recent expansion of the facility which will be accompanied by a hike in state funding.

Library income also increased as a result of the expansion from $11,675 to a projected amount of $23,375.

The mayor also explained the increased water and gas fund expenditures reflect the city's ongoing efforts and plans to install larger diameter water pipe to improve fire protection in many areas of the city.

The only substantial expenditure decrease is in the city bond and interest fund from $21,708 paid this year to $15,098.

Longo said the bond fund decrease resulted from final coupon payments recently on several municipal utility bond issues.

Waveland's expected significant income increases compared to this fiscal year also include the general fund from $1,018,378 to $1,042,008; bond and interest fund from $48,400 to $65,018; sewerage fund from $288,250 to $343,268; and water and gas fund from $363,800 to $389,400.

The mayor said a projected $13,220 deficit in the water and gas fund would not result in a utility rate hike, but could be balanced with an interfund transfer.

All other projected 1983-84 fund accounts expenditures and revenues are virtually the same except the general fund with $1,827,620 in expenditures and $1,042,568 in income; the library fund with $19,400 and $23,375; bond and interest fund with $15,098 and $65,018; and the water and gas fund with $302,680 and $389,400.

Longo also revealed the new budget reflects a $25 monthly across-the-board pay increase for city employees, higher insurance rates and a new fire rescue truck for the City Fire Department.

Supervisors table decision on hospital land donation

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Hancock County Supervisors are sitting on a proposal presented Monday morning for the donation of 20 acres of land.

Milford Lady, owner of the Waveland Resort Inn, is offering the land for the construction of a new county hospital. The property is located west of the Waveland Resort Inn at the intersection of US-90 and Hwy. 603.

Dix Ashman of Mollere Real Estate who presented the proposal to the board said, "I've been a designer, developer and engineer and have worked with the supervisors for 24 years. We succeeded in extending Hwy. 607 when people said it would be impossible. We built Buccaneer State Park. In the past we've had very good cooperation from the board and they have always done the right thing for the people."

Ashman continued, "Today the land that is being offered is the only land in the center of the populated area. There are 66 acres of land around it available for purchase. Seventy percent of the calls are from west and north of that location."

"I don't know what Mayor Bennett was thinking about when he said there was six inches of water in the Waveland Resort Inn during Camille. People stayed at the Inn during the storm and the only water that came in was rain through the broken windows."

"When we're talking about location we're talking about saving a life. Six minutes could mean a life," said Ashman.

"The only way the population can grow is out the Kiln Road. I'm not trying to start an argument between the cities but this is the only property centrally located."

Ashman then introduced Milford Lady to the supervisors, saying, "Mr. Lady has been a hospital administrator for 20 years."

Lady said, "I have two motives for wanting to develop this plan. I like the plan Ashman came up with. I would not presume to tell anybody that it wouldn't help me tremendously to develop the rest of the land."

Lady continued saying the second motive is because he has been in the hospital business. "I want to help the hospital and if they can use this property then I'm delighted, if they can't then

I would support any hospital that ever it is built."

"Dix and a good deal of others believe this is the best place for it. Six acres of the Buccola property have been donated to the board of supervisors or to the hospital board for a boulevard."

Ashman said, "Concerning the elevation according to the new flood plan 8.5 feet you have no need to put any fill into this property. When you lay a foundation down you have to add fill but this is a normal thing."

Sam Perniciaro, District Four supervisor, said, "You say it needs no fill to take over $50,000 to fill land next to that property."

Ashman said, "If you know that property then you know the people sold the drainage easement; there is no drainage problem on that property."

"There is no need to come up to highway level and the property is well above the 8.5 feet they're calling for."

Mary Caillier, Park Commission, said, "I wish you would remember the northern part of the county. Nobody ever thinks of the people up there. You have to stop and figure that time is of

Bay City Council votes to rescind zoning action

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Bay St. Louis City Council voted Tuesday night to rescind action taken July 19 designating Pete Fountain property be reclassified as R-3 zoning.

The council action this week fixes a C-3 classification on the property at the corner of North Beach Boulevard and US-90.

Jody Gex, representing Fountain, said he feels that the reasons given for the action taken July 19 were in error.

Gex said, "It was stated that the minutes were not signed. That was erroneous information because when Jules Breaux had the copy of the minutes, he only saw the first page of the minutes. Apparently the vote was taken on the first page which was page 402. The signatures were on page 402."

Gex stated that the lots were not properly marked and also in error because they were not zoned for the use of the property.

"The only way you can get a rezoning is to hold a public hearing and give notice."

Gex said, "I hope that you are all satisfied with correct

Jody Gex, city attorney said, "I don't think any of the members were trying to make a zoning change."

James Thrifflay, Ward Two council member, said, "I contend I saw scrivener's errors. I saw the lack of signatures. If there are signatures where they weren't before I'd like to know how they got there."

"In my research we had two changes. A properly done amendment can't exist if the first amendment was not legal," added Thrifflay.

"A lot has been left up in the air, we owe it to the people to investigate it further," Thrifflay said.

Thrifflay made a motion to table any action pending further investigation by the attorney. The motion died for lack of a second.

Sheldon Seuzeneau, Ward Four councilman, then made the motion to rescind the action of July 19.

Thrifflay asked the council attorney Jody Gex, if he recommended they vote on the issue at this time.

Gex stated he couldn't make a recommendation like that but that he would like to study the action.

The motion passed with a vote 4-1 with Thrifflay voting no.

In other business, Gene Taylor, Ward

One councilman, asked that the city ordinance be revised concerning shutting off utilities. He asked that people be notified that they "will be shut off," rather than, "can be shut off," if their utilities are not paid.

Taylor noted that people should be given an opportunity to pay their bills in increments, but he also noted that if people are not paying, then they should be shut off.

Taylor also asked that utilities director Bill Johnson be authorized to get an electrician or contractor to install the light polls that were received for the city.

Edward Favre, city clerk, said they will send out three or more letter bids on the installation of these polls.

Favre also noted that the Wastewater Authority at their August meeting agreed that in order to obtain 3004 grant funds they would have to implement a rate increase of $1.50 per customer for water per month. The rate increase will become effective Oct. 1.

The council then approved the increase pending approval by the attorney.

In further business the clerk was given authorization to publish an advertisement for a city engineer.

NERVOUS HEADACHES

Dr. Wm. L. POWELL

Many people believe that headaches are a sign of the times. That the hurry of our modern, fast-paced society creates anxiety and tension that brings about headaches. This assumption is true only to the extent that it can aggravate underlying existing conditions in one's body contributing to the symptoms of headaches. But the primary cause that enables you to have headaches, in the majority of cases, is an underlying structural problem within the neck area of the spine. Yes, headaches can be symptoms of other diseases within one's body, but in the majority of cases it is due primarily to nerve root pressure within the spinal column. Chiropractic adjustments restore the functional integrity of the spinal column and release nerve root pressure, enabling you to recover better from the symptoms of headaches. Anyone suffering with headaches should consult a doctor of Chiropractic rather than treating and degrading the pain, allowing the problem to go basically uncorrected until radical symptoms develop that finally require radical measures.

Public Service Commission joins $31.4 million suit

The Mississippi Public Service Commission has taken steps to become part of a federal court lawsuit filed by Mississippi Power and Light seeking $31.4 million on behalf of MP&L customers against United Gas Pipeline Company.

PSC Chairman Lynn Havens said the commission has filed a motion to intervene in the lawsuit which was filed by MP&L April 22.

The suit seeks repayment for overcharges from United and asks the court to stop United from charging inflated natural gas prices in violation of a 1967 contract with MP&L. "These overcharges are being paid by ratepayers of MP&L," Havens said. "But what has troubled the commission is the potential for United to overcharge the MP&L customer $1 million to $2 million a month through the contract period ending in December 1988 unless the court takes action now."

U.S. District Court Judge Dan Russell will hear the case. The suit was filed against United on grounds the pipeline company unlawfully includes in the price of gas delivered to MP&L the higher prices United pays for Canadian natural gas.

The suit claims the contract calls for MP&L to pay United on the basis of the weighted average price United pays producers for gas in the Jackson area, the South Louisiana area, and the Gulf of Mexico.

The overcharges were discovered by MP&L accountants during an audit of United's business records covering October 1976 through January 1983.

Havens said the audit revealed approximately $3 million in incorrect charges to MP&L by United that the pipeline company acknowledged. Still in dispute are the calculations of gas prices.

"During February of this year, those credits were passed on to the MP&L customer through the fuel adjustment clause," Havens said.

This is the second federal court lawsuit filed by MP&L against United. In 1974, MP&L sued United on grounds that MP&L was forced to purchase higher-priced fuels after the pipeline company breached a delivery contract and that MP&L generating capacity was lost to customers when plants that were designed to burn natural gas were converted to oil.

The State of Mississippi later joined MP&L in this suit. MP&L and the State of Mississippi are seeking more than $44 million in damages in the earlier lawsuit which still remains in court.

MEET BARBARA BLACK

Barbara Black is the weekend food service supervisor and diet technician here at Hancock General. She has been with us for the past eight years, and worked previously for Kal Kan Co. in Jackson testing foods. Barbara and her husband, Charles, reside in Waveland. Her responsibilities include the tabulation of all diets, working closely with the patients in choosing their physician-ordered diets and taking care of the communications with the nursing floor for diet changes and special requests. Barbara also assists the Director of Nutritional Services in overseeing the operation of the department, which is responsible for preparing and serving three meals a day to patients, employees and visitors. Patients have four separate diets available to them by order of their physicians and employees and visitors have several choices at each meal. We believe the food and Nutrition Service at Hancock General is your community hospital's diet center. Very truly yours, Barbara Black, Director of Nutritional Services.

CLASSICS OUTLET

Renoir's 'The Rules of the Game,' Griffith's 'Birth of a Nation,' Fellini's 'Eight and a Half,' de Sica's 'The Bicycle Thief'...you've heard about these classic cinema gems your entire life, now's your chance to see them at the Film Buffs Institute at Loyola University in New Orleans.

Basically, films are shown in three screening rooms in Bobet Hall, which is a four-story redbrick building, located across from Audubon Park on St. Charles Avenue. Admission is $1.50 for general admission and $3 during festivals and special screenings.

All of the foreign films are shown in their original version with English subtitles. And all of the screenings are generally populated with a very serious movie-going crowd, which makes attending each feature a genuine pleasure.

Some of the films which will be shown during the Fall-Winter schedule include:

—Sept. 9, 'Citizen Kane,' recognized as one of America's classic films. Directed and written by Orson Wells, who also stars in this powerful film about power and corruption.

—Sept. 19, Jean Renoir's 'Rules of the Game.' During the time he made this film, Renoir says, 'Now I am beginning to be aware of how I must work. I know that I am French and that I must work in an absolutely national sense... Only by doing this can I reach people of other countries.'

—Sept. 20, one of my favorite films of all-time, Robert Altman's 'Nashville.' 'Nashville' is a complicated story involving 24 major characters in Nashville which focuses on a political rally. Good work by Ronke Blakely, Keith Carradine and Geraldine Chaplin.

—Sept. 21, Francois Truffaut's 'Shoot the Piano Player.' Charles Aznavour plays a down and out piano player who works in a rundown Parisian bar in Truffaut's affectionate tribute to American B movies of the 1950s.

—Sept. 26, Alfred Hitchcock's 'Rebecca.' In one of his few traditional films, Hitchcock ended up with an Academy Award for best picture. The cast, including a young Lawrence Olivier, is uniformly excellent.

—Sept. 28, Vittorio de Sica's 'The Bicycle Thief.' A brilliant and important film and considered one of the best movies ever made. It concerns a poor worker in Milan who has his bicycle stolen. It proves to be an economic disaster, since without it he will lose his job, and the film follows his pitiful attempts to find it.

—Oct. 4, Jerry Schatzberg's 'Scarecrow.' Great photography combined with the unusual combination of Gene Hackman and Al Pacino makes 'Scarecrow' an off-beat, very interesting movie.

—Oct. 10, Billy Wilder's 'Sunset Boulevard.' Gloria Swanson and William Holden star in this stark account about the fortunes of an aging star. Another important American movie.

—Oct. 24, Ingmar Bergman's 'Wild Strawberries.' Bergman's ability to establish a film using flashbacks is exemplified greatly in this work. Starring Victor Sjoestrom, Ingrid Thulin and Bibi Andersson.

—Nov. 5, William Wellman's 'The Ox-Bow Incident.' Adaptation of the book about the terrors of mob rule. Great performances by Henry Fonda and Harry Morgan.

—Nov. 14, Federico Fellini's 'Eight and a Half.' Another of the greatest films of all-time. There are scores of other great films showing through January. For more information about the Film Buffs Institute write to Box 50, Loyola University, New Orleans, La. 70118.

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

TIMESHARING

QUESTION: I was recently vacationing in Florida and toured a real estate project. The broker was selling vacation units and seemed to have a good product. I was most interested and wonder if you could explain time sharing. L.S., Vicksburg

ANSWER: Dear L.S.:

A form of ownership which has become popular in recent years is the time share condominium. Time sharing has become very common in selling off ownership units from common areas just like the conventional condominium. However, the time share adds an additional fragmentation. It allows an individual to own a certain specified time interval.

The attractiveness of the time share unit depends on the location of the property, the level of amenities offered and the season.

Consider a family who wished to take a vacation in the same location and at the same time each year. The family may find a time share unit or interval ownership a very useful idea.

A promoter usually divides the right to use a time share unit into 52 weekly time intervals. A purchaser may buy as many intervals as desired. Normally, the intervals are priced according to the season. For example, a time share condominium in a ski resort may cost more for a week during the winter than during the summer.

To make the time interval more attractive, some promoters have joined a vacation pooling arrangement with developers of other time share projects.

A purchaser in one project can decide to use a time interval in another project by paying a registration fee and making his or her time interval available for the use of someone else.

For example, a person who owns a time share interval in Hawaii may decide not to use the unit that year and instead use someone else's time interval in Paris, France, or in Houston, Texas.

Quotables by Cuevas

In a conversation with Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson on Wednesday, he reported his department will be placing emphasis on expired and out-of-state license tags starting next week.

This has been an annual event by the sheriff's office, and every year a large number of persons are cited for violations during the emphasis week.

We realize license tags cost a nice sum in our state, but, like everyone who purchases one, we feel all residents who own vehicles should.

Everyone is urged to check their vehicles to make sure their licenses are up-to-date.

There were some really exciting football games on the high school scene last weekend.

We were at the Hancock North Central and St. Stanislaus game and it was a very exciting contest.

Reports on the Bay High Tigers and the Stone County Tomcats also kept the spectators on edge to the final whistle.

The Pirates tangled with the Warriors of d'Iberville, who always seem to be strong in a barn burner.

The schedules for Friday night seems to be offering some of the same excitement.

The Bay High Tigers will be visiting the Pass Christian Pirates who will be looking to get into the win column for their new coach.

Coach "Snuffy" Smith will be trying to keep a winning streak going and is hoping for a large number of Tiger boosters in the stands.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central will play host to arch rival Pearl River Central.

As most of you know, it seems that the Hawks and PRC always play a very exciting game.

Coach Irvin Favre of the Hawks said he would like to see the stadium filled for the game with PRC, just like fans turned out last week when the Rock-A-Chaws visited HNC.

St. Stanislaus will journey to Gulfport Friday to try and topple the St. John Eagles.

In recent years, St. John has held their own against the Hawks. Coach Vernon Powell wants to get St. Stanislaus in the win column and is hoping to bring back a victory.

Plan now to see football action Friday night at the school you support.

The coaches, players and boosters want you to be there.

Every year more and more improvements seem to be made at the Hancock North Central Stadium.

This year we noted the new dressing room for the Hawks and new concession stand on the visitors' side.

We are glad improvements like this continue at Hancock North Central.

We wish John Smith success in his retirement after so many years of serving the citizens of Hancock County including Bay St. Louis and Waveland as their county agent.

Smith has worked very hard in his many years with the extension service. He and his family became a very important part of our community and are involved in civic and church activities.

Knowing John, he will have enough projects to keep himself busy in the years ahead.

John, enjoy your retirement, you earned it.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY HELPERS—Among the many persons working at the Waveland Civic Association's Telethon on Labor Day are, from left, Eunice Arnold, Louis Smolensky, and Theresa Hubert. Jimmy Lagasse was the coordinator for the telethon in Hancock and West Harrison County in which some $4,000 was raised. Several food outlets also donated food and soft drinks for the many volunteer workers. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

GRANDPARENTS DAY

Sept. 11 has been designated Grandparents Day in Mississippi by the Mississippi Council on Aging (MCOA). This date also has been designated by Congress as National Grandparents Day.

"Grandparents Day has been designated to stimulate activities that increase closer relationships between the older and younger generations," said Jay C. Moon, Council on Aging director.

"These relationships, which unite generations, can be beneficial to both the older and younger persons, and I want to encourage all Mississippians to celebrate Grandparents Day because of the important roles that grandparents play in the preservation of our families and our American heritage.

"The day may be celebrated in many ways," Moon noted. "Consider visiting a nursing home, inviting your own or somebody's grandparents over for dinner or conducting various events to honor grandparents."

Moon said that "longer life has become a visible fact, dramatized daily in the homes and streets of America by 35 million persons aged 60 and older. Communities, in the past, tended to overlook older people while serving children with overwhelming shares of community services, schooling and recreational opportunities.

Now, there's a growing realization that older people, too, need opportunities for many kinds of involvement and participation in society. When older persons and members of the younger generation work together in community activities, the so-called 'generation gap' seems to disappear."

The Mississippi Council on Aging is designed to advocate, coordinate and improve services for older Mississippians. It strives to make their lives more meaningful.

OBSERVE Constitution WEEK

FLY YOUR FLAG!

Signing of U.S. Constitution to be celebrated Sept. 17-23

A week long celebration sponsored by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution will mark the 166th anniversary of the drafting of the United States Constitution.

The observance begins on Sept. 17 and continues through Sept. 23, according to an announcement made by Vice Regent Joe Pilet, publicist for the Friendship Oak Chapter, NSDAR.

"Each year the celebration of Constitution Week has been a highlight in our national life," Mrs. Pilet said.

Tracing the origin of the custom Mrs. Pilet, noted "A resolution was introduced by Senator William F. Knowland was signed into public law August 2, 1956 requesting Sept. 17-23 of each year be declared Constitution Week. The President of the United States requests the people of the United States to observe this celebration in schools, churches and other suitable places with appropriate ceremonies and activities."

In compliance with the President's request the mayors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland have prepared proclamations expressing their personal feelings of patriotism and urge citizens to study the Constitution, to express gratitude for the privilege of American citizenship functioning under "the superb body of law" the Constitution of the United States.

"Posters will be placed in public places reminding citizens to display their flags, attend churches of their choice and express gratitude and thankfulness that our Founding Fathers has vision, wisdom, and foresight in writing the Constitution," Mrs. Pilet said.

Waveland Mayor John Longo said: "To accord official recognition to this memorable anniversary and to the patriotic exercise of reviewing our constitution, displaying our flags seems both fitting and proper."

Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis said: "It is important that our citizens fully understand the provisions and principles contained in the Constitution of the United States. It is the greatest document for human liberty in our two thousand years of history."

SEARCH FOR EXCELLENCE

Every school year, about this time, the search for excellence begins anew. There is a program in Mississippi which recognizes and rewards excellence in scholastic achievement, just as there are so many honors for athletic achievement.

More than 300 high schools, public and private, are already participating in the honors program. It is called the Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition Program, or STAR for short.

Fundamentally, the program is designed to seek out and recognize high school seniors who excel in the classroom and to honor outstanding teachers of those students.

Now almost 20 years old, the STAR program is sponsored by the Mississippi Economic Council.

The program works like this: a STAR student and teacher are selected in each participating school.

From the local school winners, 20 STAR students and 20 teachers are selected. These selections based on geographic area are based on the same scholastic credentials as those followed at the local level.

Then, from the 20 area winners, the state's top STAR student and two runners-up are selected, along with top STAR teacher and two runners-up.

The invitation is being extended now to high schools across Mississippi. Now is the time for acceptance of that invitation to participate in the 1983-84 STAR program and to assure the recognition of scholastic excellence in your school.

School board members, school administrators, teachers, and parents all are invited to be involved this year.

The search for educational excellence is on in Mississippi. STAR identifies and honors those involved in the process.

Women's Bowling Congress insurance does not cover theft

Letters
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Attention all league bowlers: Is this why we are bonded; do we have to be insured to collect?

Two white males entered the Triangle Bowling Alley and sat behind our bowling lane for about 45 minutes. When our secretary left the table to go bowl, the grabbed our league money bag and fled out the door.

All league secretaries, if you disagree with WIBC's findings on this matter, please write to Sharon Ergan, Rules Department, 5801 South 76th St., Greenfield, Wis. 53129.

Cindy Schoonmaker, secretary, put in a claim for this and was told that the bonding department would not consider this a theft.

If someone was hurt in the process of the theft, they would pay us.

They said that robbery is defined as the taking of funds from a league officer by violence or threat of violence; and burglary is defined as forcible entry into the premises or locked receptacle where the funds are kept.

This does not seem fair to the league to have to get hurt in protecting the money for the team.

It seems like that is the reason for paying the insurance money, for protection.

Please let the bowlers know how you feel about this matter.

Commuting to work called a waste of time and energy

The ELECTRONIC COTTAGE IS HERE
By DONALD R. MOTT
Radio, Television and Film
The University of Southern Mississippi

The following article is the result of a project funded by the Mississippi committee for the Humanities to the Mississippi Press Association. The opinions expressed are those of the author and not those of either organization.

"The single most anti-productive thing we do is to make millions of people go back and forth to work every day," says Alvin Toffler, author of "Future Shock" and "The Third Wave."

Using what Toffler terms the "electronic cottage," the work in many companies goes back and forth on electronic equipment while the employee stays at home working on a home terminal that is connected by telephone line to the company's main-frame computer.

The electronic cottage is possible because of the development of the miracle chip. What used to fill a large room, consume tremendous amounts of power and generate a terrific amount of heat, now is contained in a small hand calculator that operates on fewer than three volts.

The implications of the miracle chip's evolution are particularly significant for working parents. Companies that put employees on a work-at-home basis are solving many problems encountered by today's working parent.

They are eliminating the expense of day care centers and transportation that cut drastically into salaries.

Women and men working at home via computers can care for their children as well as cook dinner and run the washing machine.

The electronic cottage concept is ideally suited to the single parent.

Men and women who prefer to run their own business from their home are already utilizing the electronic cottage concept. According to Woman's Day (November 16, 1982), Sally Ubbing quit her $20,000 a year job and, with the help of her computer, founded a "Girl Friday" service, aptly named My Gal Sal.

The Mississippi State Board of Education is currently restructuring secondary school requirements to include computer training. George George of Mississippi's Research and Development Center feels "digitally literate" people are essential in luring new industry that uses the electronic cottage to our state.

Richard Byrne, acting dean of the Annenberg School of Communications at the University of Southern California, sees a revolution in education as a result of the miracle chip.

"Most people have been trained in an authority structure where a person or book provides the answers."

With the computer as a tool, you know where you're starting, but not where you are going. It's an adventure in discovery learning."

The electronic cottage is even being redesigned. As Jane Wollman, interviewing Alvin Toffler for Popular Computing (December 1982), puts it, "Don't be surprised if the home computer of the future is soft, cuddly, loaded with a thick fur pet, and looks more like an adorable household pet than a machine."

Donald Mauffray announces for Circuit clerk position

James D. (Donald) Mauffray of 410 Ullman Avenue in Bay St. Louis has announced his candidacy as an Independent for the post of Hancock County Circuit Court clerk in the Nov. 2 General Election.

Mauffray issued the following statement in connection with his candidacy:

"I am the eleventh of twelve children of the late Claude D. and Bessie Garriga Mauffray of the Fenton community. I am a brother to Conrad Mauffray, Mrs. Edith Thibbeaux and Mrs. Verdie Brumfield of Bay St. Louis; J.C. (Peck) Mauffray of Kiln; Wilson and Wayne Mauffray of Long Beach; and the late Woodrow Mauffray of Fenton, Ullman Mauffray of Kiln and Mrs. Gloria Horlock of Bay St. Louis.

"I am married to the former Charlotte Nelson of Warrenton, Va., who is evening nursing supervisor at Hancock General Hospital. We have two sons, Melvin and Vincent Nelson; one daughter, Mrs. Valerie Koogle, and granddaughter Dawn, both of Newport News, R.I.

"While I have never before been elected to public office, I feel that my past experience in other fields of public life will qualify me for the position of Hancock County Circuit clerk.

"I studied three years for the priesthood under the Oblate Fathers in the late 50s when their major seminary was located at the old Pines Hills Hotel. I graduated from St. Henry's College in Belleville, Ill., where I majored in social sciences, mathematics and the humanities.

"In the early 60s I was office manager at the then recently built Hancock General Hospital under Administrator

Thomas O. Logue Jr. I left there, in 1968 to accept a teaching position with the GED Program. I taught math, phonics, English, reading and personal hygiene to both black and white students from age 16 to 60 at the old Dedaux School in North Hancock County.

"When this program was phased out, I went into business on my own, operating Don's Grocery in Fenton for several years until I accepted a new-created position of recreation director for the Hancock Senior Citizens in the 70s.

"More recently, I have been self-employed, mainly with rental properties.

"I am a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis, Waveland Civic Association, Waveland Players Theatrical Group, Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post of Waveland and the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Kiln where I served seven years as post chaplain and adjutant.

"I ask the voters of Hancock County to give serious consideration to electing me your next Circuit clerk."

NOMA to feature works by Elizabeth Catlett

The New Orleans Museum of Art will present a special exhibition entitled 'Elizabeth Catlett: Sculptures and Graphics' from Sept. 10 through Oct. 23.

The exhibition includes 49 works by the American black artist, Elizabeth Catlett, and coincides with the publication of a comprehensive monograph on the artist and her work by Dr. Samella Lewis of Scripps College, Claremont, Calif.

Elizabeth Catlett was born in Washington, D.C. in 1919. She attended Howard University, where she studied with artist and art historian James Porter, who helped shape her views on art and remained a lifelong friend.

She graduated in 1937, and later enrolled in the newly-founded MFA program at the University of Iowa, Iowa City. There she studied with painter Grant Wood.

Catlett credits Wood with teaching her the rigorous technical and formal discipline that has formed the basis of her work. A master carpenter, Wood encouraged his students to work with wood, and it was this dynamic teacher who encouraged Catlett to sculpt rather than paint.

In a few years Catlett began working with stone rather than wood; and in 1940, she received the University of Iowa's first MFA in sculpture. Her thesis piece, a 36-inch high limestone, seated 'Mother and Child,' won first prize in sculpture that summer at the Diamond Jubilee Exposition in Chicago. Both the theme and meticulous attention to craft evident in the piece became hallmarks of Catlett's art.

After receiving her MFA, Catlett continued her studies, working with French sculptor Ossip Zadkine in 1942-43, pioneer art educator Viktor Lowenfeld in 1943, and Francisco Zuniga in 1946, at Escuela de Pintura y Escultura, Mexico's government art school. In 1955, Catlett returned to Escuela de Pintura y Escultura to study wood carving with Jose L. Ruiz.

During the 1940s Catlett's sculptures focused on the theme of the black woman and were classical and harmonious in form. However, shortly after studying with Ruiz, her sculpture became increasingly abstract. Catlett's mahogany 'Mother and Child' (1959) was a transitional piece, falling between the classicism of the 1940s and the more abstract figurative style evolved in the 1960s.

During the past two decades, Catlett has been given awards at numerous international exhibitions and has received several public commissions, including the 10-foot bronze, 'Louis Armstrong,' installed in New Orleans' Armstrong Park in 1960.

In addition to being an artist, Catlett was an educator. She began teaching in 1937 in Durham, N.C. During the summer of 1940, she taught a Prairie View College in Texas, and later headed the Art Department at Dillard University in New Orleans. Additionally, she joined the staff of George Washington Carver School (a night school in Harlem) in 1944; and, in 1959, Catlett was appointed Professor of Sculpture at the National School of Fine Arts, the first woman to teach there. Subsequently, she became head of the Sculpture Department, a position she held until her retirement in 1976.

PBS—Richard Reeves, author of "American Journey," along with Gary Gilson engage in a fascinating dialogue about Reeves' travels, the book which resulted from them and French historian Alexis de Tocqueville on 'Richard Reeves' America, to be aired on METV, Ch. 19 or Ch. 13 on Hancock Cable Wednesday, Sept. 14 at 10 p.m.

Pass Library hours listed

The Pass Christian Library on Heirn Avenue behind City Hall is still without air conditioning, but the staff will begin new Fall hours Monday, Sept. 19.

The new schedule will include opening on a trial basis Tuesdays from 7:30 a.m. until 6 p.m. to give people who work an opportunity to use the facility.

Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday hours will be 7:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.; Saturday hours will remain the same, 9 a.m. until noon. Linda Schmitt, head librarian, reports.

Mormons plan visiting teachers convention

The annual Visiting Teachers Convention of Gulfport Stake Relief Society, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints will be conducted Saturday at the church's Gulfport Chapel corner of Orange Grove Road and Hwy. 49.

The convention is open to all members of the Relief Society from the Waveland, Picayune, Orange Grove, Gulfport, Biloxi I, and Biloxi II Wards.

Program includes luncheon at 11 a.m. followed by a special inspirational meeting. Visiting teaching is performed on the local level in each ward of the church with the ladies organized in teams of two.

These teams visit the women of the church in their homes at least once a month offering love, comradeship, physical assistance, and emotional and spiritual understanding and encouragement.

In addition, a short timely message is presented reinforcing and encouraging the in-home application of such principles as purity, hope, humility, service, integrity, love and prayer.

would second a motion proposed by Bert Courrage, District One supervisor, to allow the hospital trustees to select a hospital site.

Previously, the supervisors in a split vote rejected a trustee recommendation to purchase land at the intersection of Old Spanish Trail and Nicholson Avenue in Waveland for the proposed new facility.

The supervisors whose new district lines extend into Bay St. Louis (Roger Dale Ladner, Sam Pernicaro and James Travira) voting against the site and the ones whose districts extend into Waveland (A.A. (Dolph) Keller and Courrage) voted in favor of the proposal.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett is urging the supervisors to construct the hospital on property for sale located east of the intersection of Drinkwater Road and US-90 and the Bay City Council is urging that the hospital remain in the city because it is the county seat.

Longo has contended either of the proposed Waveland sites would provide availability of a closer hospital facility for residents of the county.

But the Waveland mayor said Tuesday night that he would endorse any site proposed independently by the hospital trustees.

He reported he was reluctantly drawn into a 'political fight' regarding the controversy on the hospital location in defending the Waveland sites.

"...but I got into a political fight and I have enough!" Longo stated.

Rev. Charles Johnson, hospital trustees president, stated, "We made our position clear we're not for Bay St. Louis or Waveland."

Longo said community political differences "should not jeopardize the lives of citizens."

Brother Martin Hernandez and Perry Gibson, both trustees, said they did not know if the supervisors or trustees possess legal authority to select a hospital site.

Gibson reported Walter Gex, the supervisors' attorney, is seeking a State Attorney General's ruling in the matter.

Hernandez stated, "This has gotten so political, I'm ready to throw up my hands due to politics."

Longo encouraged Hernandez not to give up and stated, "This has gotten political, but we've got to bring this back where it belongs—with the hospital board—and if it can't be decided, bring it before the people."

Dix Ashman of Mollers Realty, representing Lady, said 70 percent of Mobile Medic's emergency calls are north and west of the US-90 and Hwy. 603 intersection.

He also said the property elevation is 'about 10 to 12 feet above sea level.'

Lady reported he did not offer his land until after the supervisors rejected the other Waveland site and was not trying to tell anyone where the hospital should be located.

He admitted the hospital would help improve his remaining land.

In a related matter, Delmar Wilcox, a developer, revealed plans for a multi-story medical center on a 10-acre site at the intersection of Waveland Avenue and US-90.

He said that construction should begin in the Spring and 'some doctors are ready to move into it.'

Wilcox said the completed facility, to be owned by the doctors, would include offices, hotel type rooms and small shops.

In other business, a motion made by Courrage objecting to an increase from $3.33 to $3.50 to the public service commission for the waterworks in Clermont Harbor was accepted.

Also in other business, Larry Seals of Broadway and Seals was authorized to prepare preliminary plans for the overlaying of the Kiln-Delisle Road.

Further in other business, Lee Taylor was approved for the position of county agent. He will begin following a 10-day leave in Colorado.

The board of supervisors were presented with a plaque from the Little Leaguers as a token of appreciation for their support and their help in sending the Little League to out of state games.

Bell shuffles in-state rates

New rates for in-state long distance telephone calls were approved by the Mississippi Public Service Commission and went into effect recently.

South Central Bell will not receive any additional net revenues as a result of the new rates, a company spokesman recently said.

"The new tariffs encourage Calling Card calls by establishing a 50 cent charge for operator assistance with the actual conversation time billed at direct-dialed rates," said J.N. McGowen, vice president of South Central Bell's Mississippi operations.

"Furthermore, those operator-assisted calls which require more operator work time now carry uniform flat rates to offset the cost of this service. These rates range from 50 cents for a station-to-station, Calling Card call to $2.25 for operator-handled, person-to-person calls. Direct-dialed rates apply for actual 'Talk' time," McGowen added.

Other major changes include:

—Rate period specific billing. With rate period specific billing, if a weekday call is placed at 4:55 p.m., for example, and continues until 5:05 p.m., the first five minutes would be billed at the full weekday rate. The second five minutes, from 5 p.m. until 5:05 p.m., would be billed the discounted, evening rate;

—A new one-minute initial period for operator-assisted calls;

—Time-of-day discounts for the entire conversation period (including the initial one minute period) on all calls;

—No holiday discount when the legal holiday is not on the same date - for example, if New Year's Day is on a Saturday and the legal holiday was the Friday before, no discount would be in effect on Friday;

—Modest increases in charges for short-distance calls and modest decreases in charges for longer-distance calls.

McGowen said under the old rates, a four-minute direct-dialed call from Jackson to Biloxi, for example, would have cost $2.13 if placed between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. on a weekday. With the new rates, the same call costs $2.10. A four-minute station-to-station Calling Card call placed between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. on a weekday would have cost $2.58 under the old rates and now costs $1.34, he reported.

"The new tariffs should encourage our customers to use the least costly method of calling while our company will benefit through increased network efficiency," McGowen said.

POINT OF LAW

Mississippi State Bar

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some legal rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your rights.)

Q: What are the minimum requirements for marriage in Mississippi?

A: Before a marriage license can be issued the male must prove he is at least 17 years old, and the female must prove she is at least 15 years old.

But if a reason can be given to a judge of any Chancery, Circuit or County Court that a couple must be married, the age requirement may be waived.

Also if the parents give their consent, an underaged couple may be married.

Application for a marriage license must be in writing and be on file three days before the couple receives a license.

Thirty days before applying for the license, the couple must receive a medical certificate showing them to be free of syphilis.

Proof of age is required by showing a birth certificate, baptismal record, armed service discharge or other official document.

If either person appears to be under the age of 21, and is without parental consent, the clerk will notify the mother, father, guardian or next of kin.

Q: Is there common law marriage in Mississippi?

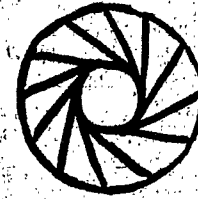

A: No. Common law marriage in Mississippi was abolished in 1956. A Mississippi common law marriage is valid if it was consummated before 1956. If a couple entered into a common law marriage in another state where it was valid, then it is considered to be valid in Mississippi.

Children of a common law marriage after 1956 are illegitimate.

the essence. I just hope you would never have the occasion to need that time."

John Longo, mayor of Waveland, gave the supervisors a list of available properties in Waveland. He also gave them a list of the assets for building in Waveland which included: Modern services; lowest cost; free garbage; ultra-modern lighting; Lady site did not flood, it rained in; city credit "AAA"; favorable community climate; central location; access from highways 603-90-607; and land donations.

Longo told the supervisors that he knew they were going to be fair in this consideration. He also added that through Buccola Real Estate, Norbert Kohnke would like to donate a boulevard to the city for access to the hospital.

Bert Courrage, District One supervisor, made a motion asking the supervisors to turn the decision back to the hospital committee and to accept their recommendation.

The motion died for lack of a second. A.A. (Dolph) Keller, District Two supervisor and president of the board, said, "I don't know whether this board has the final say or the hospital board has the final say on where to build the new hospital."

Callier added, "Just remember people's lives depend on where that hospital is located. Ask the Mobile Medics where most of the ambulance calls come in from. All I'm saying is just consider that."

Mississippi Power refund reported

Lynn Havens, chairman of the Mississippi Public Service Commission, Southern District, reported recently that Mississippi Power Co. customers would receive some $35 million in refunds.

"We have concluded the $39.3 million Mississippi Power Co. case that was filed Oct. 20, 1980. We have gone through Chancery Court, the Supreme Court and the Mississippi Public Service Commission finalized the hearings that will bring about approximately $35 million refund including interest to Mississippi Power customers," he stated.

Havens further stated, "The Commission will move quickly to issue an order instructing Mississippi Power to immediately begin the preparation of refunding the consumers' money that they have used for a period of 33 months."

"This is one of two cases that the public service commission won in the Supreme Court. We have two other cases at this time in court under bond; the $21.9 million Mississippi Power case which the Commission completely denied and the $98 million South Central Bell Telephone Co. case in which the Commission completely denied," he reported.

Havens, in concluding his statement, said he would like to commend Special Legal Counsel for the commission, Maurice Dantin, and staff witnesses for a complete and thorough job assuring the consumers that they are protected against any excessive rates by Mississippi Power.

BELL QUERY

Havens also recently notified South Central Bell by letter that he would like to be advised of the savings derived from using management personnel during the 22-day period at the AT&T strike in which several hundred employees were not required to be paid by the company.

Havens said, "This would be a sizable savings to the company in salary and I feel beyond any doubt that this saving should be passed on to the telephone consumers in this state."

"Not knowing the final agreement and the increase that was agreed to by the company in the settlement of the strike, I feel that the consumers will later be called upon to pick up that tab," he stated.

Havens further stated he was sure company officials in management and supervisory positions would give their complete cooperation to the commission which will audit these figures at a later date.

Barbara Rappold seeking Hancock Circuit clerk post

Barbara Rappold, 112 Whispering Pines Drive, Waveland, has announced her candidacy for election to the office of Circuit Clerk of Hancock County.

Miss Rappold served as city secretary of the City of Waveland for the past eleven years, and is currently serving Waveland as alderman of the First Ward.

She is a graduate of St. Mary's Dominican College of New Orleans and has taught in private and public schools.

She graduated with the first class from Mississippi State University as a certified municipal clerk and furthered her studies in local government. She is recognized as an international certified municipal clerk.

Miss Rappold has been for many years a member of the Mississippi Clerks, Assessors and Collectors Association, the Gulf Coast Municipal Officers Association, the Mississippi Municipal Association and the International Institute of Municipal Clerks.

She has also served with Hancock Chamber of Commerce, Altrusa Club, the Governor's MIDAS Committee and the Advisory Committee of the Hancock General Hospital.

She has judged St. Clare School Field Day and has worked with the St. Clare Church Fair. She is also a member of the Krewe of Nereids and was the first Queen of the Krewe of Triton last year.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rappold of 404 Gordon St., Waveland.

"I have enjoyed serving all of the citizens of Waveland and Hancock County for the eleven years I have been in public life. I feel my past experience and knowledge of the needs of the people of Hancock County qualify me to hold the position I now seek," Miss Rappold said.

"I intend to try to reach everyone personally, but because of the limited time between now and November 8, I may fall short. I only hope the voters will understand this and give me their support to assure my election," the candidate added.

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club takes another Lipton Cup

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club defended its Sir Thomas Lipton Challenge Cup championship in the 64th renewal of this event at Bay St. Louis over the weekend.

Skippers Mac Hadden and Dennis Stieffel Sunday and Monday turned in wins in the Gulf Yachting Association event.

Ponchartraine Yacht Club won the initial race Saturday and Wallace Weatherly of Gulfport Yacht Club took first place in the first of two races on Sunday.

Taking second place overall was the Pensacola Yacht Club and Gulfport Yacht Club was third.

Pensacola will host the Lipton Challenge next year.

For BWYC, this was their ninth victory, moving them into third place overall among GYA competitors.

They have won five of the last seven Lipton challenges in this Flying Scot championship.

At Newport Beach, Calif. Bay-Waveland Yacht Club skipper Marc Eagan was in second place in the Mallory Cup sailing finals after three races.

Eagan, who has BWYC's Corkey Hadden and Pensacola's Doug Samson as his crew members, was 2 1/2 points out of first place.

PRC encounter first of two this year

Hawks facing another tough rival

By EDGAR PEREZ
While aerial fireworks are likely to highlight Friday's unusual early season Hawk-Blue Devil conflict, the event could also feature a rushing duel between a pair of the Deep South Conference's leading ground gainers.

Hancock North Central's Tailback Lydell Curry, who raced for some 853 yards last season, will square off against Pearl River Central's Chip Johnson who also topped the 800 mark in 1982. Johnson scored five touchdowns against the Hawks in a spring contest from which the Devils emerged with a 20-point edge.

In addition, the Hawks will be forced Friday night to defend against the deadly accurate PRC Quarterback Gerald Tillman who threw for 503 yards and three touchdowns last season. Tillman will be working in combination with ace receiver Reece Roche at split end, rated by HNC Head Coach Irvin Favre as "One of the best in the state."

But the Carriere-based Blue Devils, under the tutelage of Head coach David Oakes, sustained heavy losses due to graduation and may be hard-pressed to retain their district and conference leadership roles maintained in 1981 and 1982, respectively.

PRC lost its season opener last week to county rival Poplarville, 34-16.

Favre, however, rates Poplarville as "maybe the best Single-A team in the state."

And because of the "rivalry factor" the Hawk coach doesn't view the loss to Poplarville as a sign of weakness in his Friday opponent.

"PRC is always a big rivalry for us also, they're a strong football school and they always get up for their games against Hancock," Favre stated.

Lighting the fuses for Hancock's aerial display Friday will be Quarterback Scott Favre who threw 10 completions in 16 attempts last week when the Hawks hammered out a season-opening victory over county rival St. Stanislaus, 28-14.

Scott Favre is not an unknown quantity to the Blue Devils. He completed 11 of 22 passes for 141 yards in that spring game against PRC.

Scott will be shooting for senior tight end Gary Fricks of Lakeshire as well as sophomores David Leggett and Tony Guidry.

The Hawks tossed for two extra point completions against the Rock-A-Chaws and completed a 38-yard touchdown aerial.

Irvin Favre believes the Hawks have developed a well-balanced offense, with Curry scoring twice against Stanislaus and Fullback Mark Jackson carrying in for another TD.

Friday night's 7:30 p.m. encounter with PRC will be the first of two meetings this year between HNC and PRC.

Both teams found themselves with open dates on Sept. 9, and Favre and Oakes decided an early meeting could prove beneficial for both teams.

"There's always a good gate when Hancock and Pearl River meet," Irvin Favre said in noting he is hoping for a large turnout to follow the full house at the Stanislaus game last week.

Results of Friday's game will not count in the conference and district races. Those statistics will be entered in the record books when the two teams battle again on Nov. 4 in Carriere.

HNC'S IRVIN FAVRE

"We especially don't want to give them any momentum this week for that November Devils," the HNC coach added.

"We are in good shape, but the weather has been a limiting factor as far as our ability to practice and get ready for this game," Favre continued.

"But we intend to be on our toes, we don't expect to be embarrassed at home," he said.

KARATE RANK—Karate students at Waveland and Long Beach studios who recently earned international ranking include, from left, Randall Ritch of Bay St. Louis, purple belt;

David Clark of Bay St. Louis, brown belt; Hugh Finlason of Waveland, brown belt; and Deanna Tynes of White Cypress, purple belt.

Karate students pass international tests

International tests were administered recently to students of the Gulf Coast Shotokan, Karate Club on Auderer Boulevard in Waveland.

Classes are instructed by Rannie Ladner, black belt, and a member of the Japan Karate Federation.

The tests were administered by T. Mikami, seventh degree black belt and three-time Japan champion.

The tests consisted of three parts: kata (forms), kihon (basic movements) and kumite (fighting).

Belt ranks consist of two whites, one green, two purple, three brown and black.

Students promoted to first stripe, white belt, of 8th kyu were Shenea Ladner, Ian Alcalen, Lisa Kingston, Thomas Wiggins.

Second stripe white belt or 7th kyu awards went to Olivia Waltman, Maurice Hennessey, Spike Hennessey, Fay Waltman, and Morgan Miles.

Earning green belt or 6th kyu were Chris Heaps and Gussy Adam.

Purple belt or 5th kyu rank went to Laura Garrison, Matt

Heitzmann, Eddie Reinhardt.

High purple or 4th kyu holders are Ann Tynes, Judy Fuller, Laurie Martinolich, Stephen Martinolich, Deanna Tynes, Randall Ritch, Randle Ladner, Larry Lind, Heath Necaise, Brennan Compretta.

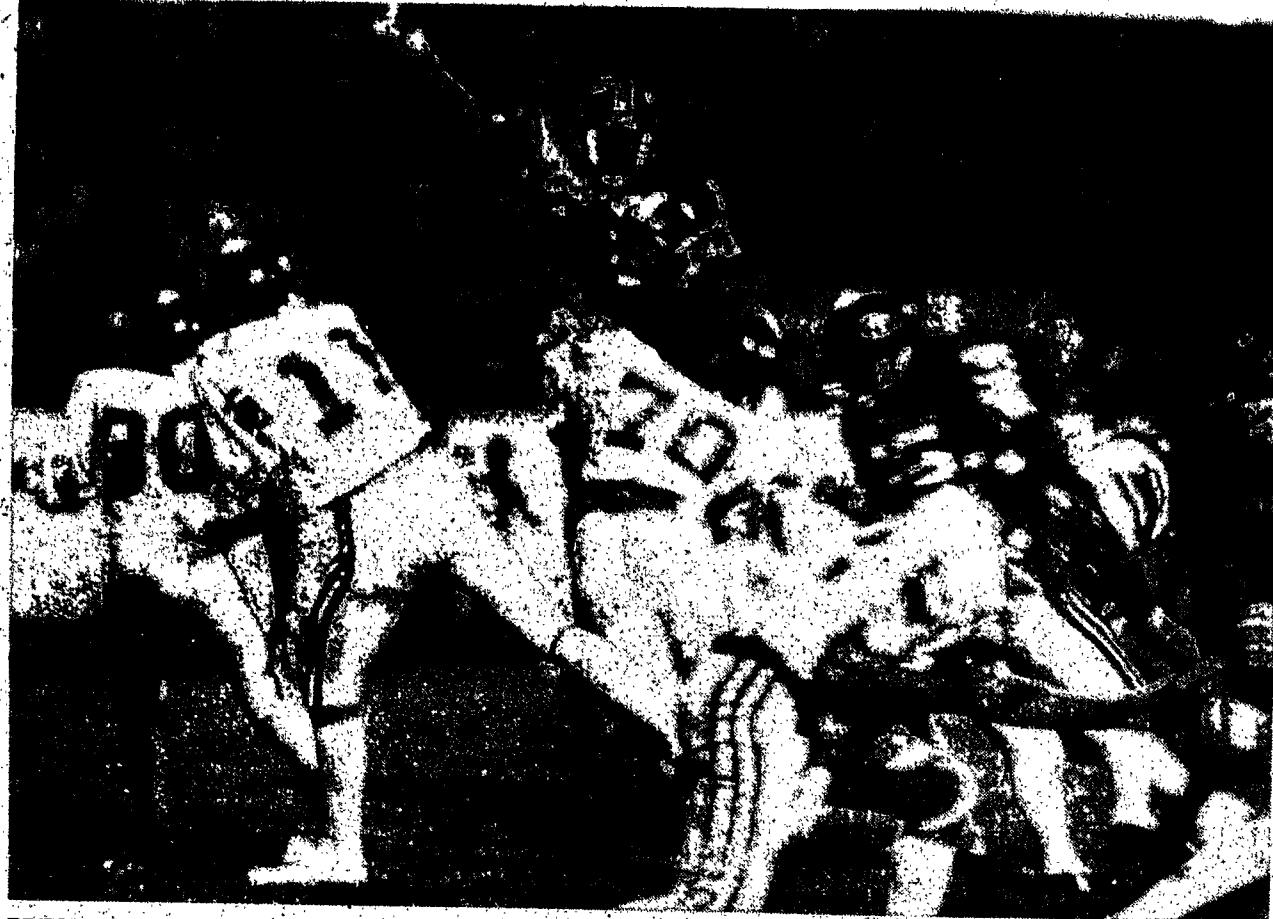

Brown belt or 3rd kyu students are David Clark and Hugh Finlason.

FINAL TESTING—Passing karate students from Waveland and Long Beach studios, from left, Ronnie Manning of Long Beach; Shenea Ladner of White Cypress; Ian Alcalen of Waveland; and Cathy Durt of Long Beach, all earned white belts. The students study the martial art at Fisher's Karate of Long Beach and Gulf Coast Shotokan on Auderer Blvd., Waveland.

Overall improvement hoped by Pass coach

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Pass Christian High School head football coach is hoping to improve his overall team for the Friday night rival game with Bay Senior High School.

The Pass Pirates last Friday lost in a season opener with the d'Iberville High School Warriors, 21-6, in that team's stadium.

Bay High beat Stone County High School 6-0 in a Perkinson contest, also a season opener last Friday.

Pirate Head Coach Kenneth McKinney reports Bay High earned a big win over the hard-hitting Stone Tomcats.

He hopes the Pirates will improve this week for the rival contest with Bay High.

When asked how he plans to improve the Pirates' performance for their first 1983 home game, McKinney replied that he was not pleased with any team member's efforts, but all starters will retain their positions.

"We weren't happy with our Friday night efforts. They (d'Iberville) got after us pretty good Friday, but we're going to try to do better next time," he stated.

Kickoff time this Friday is 7:30 p.m. at Francis S. McDonald Stadium on North Street next to Pass Christian Elementary School.

Lions capitalize on Wildcat mistakes

East Mississippi Junior College capitalized on seven Pearl River Junior College turnovers to post an 11-8 win in the "Battle of the Cats" at PRJC's Dobbie Holden Stadium, Saturday night.

The Lions of East Mississippi and Wildcats waged a defensive struggle in the season-opening game for both junior college teams. Of the 19 points scored in the game, only six were generated by either of the two teams' offensive units.

All 11 East Mississippi points were the result of a stop unit which limited the Wildcats to only seven first downs in the entire game and 38 yards of total offense in the opening half.

The Lions jumped on the board first when PRJC's punter Scott Senner, who averaged an amazing 57 yards per punt on three attempts, watched a snap sail over his head on his first punt attempt of the night. Senner chased the ball down in the end zone to sacrifice a two-point, safety rather than a touch-down.

East Mississippi was awarded its second two-point safety of the night when the Lions forced PRJC's starting quarterback Doug Norris to cough up the ball during a heavy rush with 3:37 left to play in the opening half. Luckily for Norris and the Wildcats, the fumble had eyes for the back of the end zone and rolled off the playing surface.

Leading 4-0, the Lions had an ample opportunity to increase their lead before the intermission. After driving down to the Wildcats' 5-yard line, the Lions failed on four straight tries to punch the ball across the goal line. The final attempt from the 2 was the last play in the first half.

Despite being held to only 38 yards in total offense, the Wildcats managed to keep the game close by turning to their own bruising defensive team. In the first half of play, the 'Cats defense bent but never broke, holding East Mississippi to just 128 yards in total offense for the first half and 37 yards in offense during the second half.

East Mississippi's only touchdown came late in the third quarter when Lloyd Bell intercepted passes thrown by the Wildcats and waited into the end zone, untouched, from 16 yards out.

Trailing 11-0 midway threw the fourth period, PRJC had plenty of opportunities to pull the game out. The Wildcats took over possession inside the Lions' 50-yard line on four successive possessions and only managed to chalk up eight points.

Two of those points came on a blocked punt when nose guard Darren Perkins deflected an East Mississippi punt out of the back of the end zone with 5:02 remaining to be played. The Lions' blocked punt came four plays after the Wildcats' backup quarterback Darren Brock led the Wildcats down to the East Mississippi 5-yard line being intercepted in the end zone.

PRJC's lone touchdown, and the only score generated by either offensive units, came with 3:32 left in the game as Brock teamed up with Roy Travis on a 21-yard scoring strike to cap a four-play, 42-yard scoring drive and pull the Wildcats to within three points of East Mississippi. James Adams, PRJC's placekicker, booted the extra point attempt wide to the right.

With 1:27 left in the game, the Wildcats were awarded one last chance to pull out the win. Starting on its own 46, however, PRJC ran off only two plays before turning the ball over for the seventh time in the game with its third lost fumble.

The Wildcats, who dumped the Lions by a 13-10 score in last year's season opener in Scooba, rolled up 173 yards in total offense. Norris and Brock completed 8 of 20 passing attempts for 104 yards and four interceptions.

Defensively, PRJC's Shannon Ramsey and Tommy Hillman helped the Wildcats' defense hold East Mississippi's offensive team scoreless. Hillman led the team with eight tackles, two assists and one recovered fumble, while Ramsey contributed five tackles, one blocked pass and one quarterback sack.

The Wildcats, 0-1, will be on the road against Itawamba Junior College in a non-conference battle on Saturday.

Arban upset with Wildcat performance

Labor Day for the Pearl River College Wildcats was no holiday. Not by any stretch of the imagination.

After losing to the East Mississippi Lions 11-8 last Saturday night in the Dobbie Holden Stadium, J. C. Arban, the Wildcats' head coach, sent his troops through two workouts, including a two-hour full-scale scrimmage Monday afternoon.

"That was the worst offensive performance I've been associated with in 25 years of coaching," said Arban. "It was embarrassing, to me, the coaches, the team and especially our fans. I hate they had to sit through it."

The Wildcat defensive unit did not give up a single point in the East Miss. contest, however, the offense did. In fact, the Lions picked up all 11 points by being served up two first half safeties and a third quarter interception for an easy six points.

Punter Scott Senner, who did not ball three times for a 56-yard average, had to fall on the pigskin in the end zone after the center sailed it over his head in the first quarter. Then quarterback Doug Norris fumbled at his own goal line, but luckily the ball scooted out of the end zone. East Miss. led 4-0 at halftime.

In the third period, Lloyd Bell intercepted a Norris pass and easily rambled into the endzone for icing the score. Defensively the Wildcats put up a goal line stand to close the first half and then held the Lion offense off for the last two quarters.

"Defensively we started out being a little too cautious," Arban said, "but, after a while we turned loose and started hitting. I always thought they would have a hard time scoring. And they didn't."

On offense the story was entirely different. "We were confused and we never did adjust as we practiced with their (East Miss.) over-shifting. Our run blocking was bad, but it was not as bad as our pass protection. That's where our confusion really showed up."

If the Wildcats thought they had problems last week with the Lions, then they'll really have trouble this Saturday night with the Itawamba Indians, the pre-season north division favorites.

As Arban put it, "Those Indians are on the warpath."

Itawamba has been a real problem for the Wildcats for the past five meetings. Even though the 'Cats have an overall 14-5-1 ledger through the years.

Last year, the Wildcats had a 15-0 halftime advantage only to lose 19-15 in the Holden Stadium. Back in 1979 the Indians came from behind again to defeat the Wildcats 24-17. In '78 and '77 the Wildcats won close games, 12-2 and 19-7.

In 1976, the last time PRJC won the state championship, the Indians came out on top 31-28. Before that, you have to go all the way back to 1969 to find where the two clubs squared off.

Just last week the Indians defeated Jones 18-17 in Laurel. That's not a small task in itself. This week the 'Cats will have to travel to Fulton and there's no peace signal coming from that area.

"We'll have our hands full," Arban said. "They will be running the same offense, the 'bone,' as we do with a split end and one tight end. Their defense will be very similar to the East Miss. lineup."

Arban also said the Indians were very aggressive. "They will swarm us, and they'll beat us as bad as they can."

For the Wildcats it may be "Custer's Last Stand." "If we don't go up there with the attitude of playing hardnose football, then it could very easily be another embarrassing Saturday night," Arban said.

Of course, Arban, and the Wildcats will have a few new wrinkles to throw at the Indians. "We have a better offensive team than we showed the other night. I know we have. We got to have."

Captains for this week's game will include linebacker Johnny Ramsey, running back Roy Travis, a wide receiver of Purvis and tackle Gary Harris of Lafayette, La.

Game time is 7 p.m. Radio station WBRN, 100.1 Poplarville will carry the game.

Coach won't predict— says, 'We're prepared'

By JUNE M. HEYDT
With only bruises and no serious injuries the St. Stanislaus team will be going into Friday's game against St. John full strength said Coach Vernon Powell.

"I feel good about that," the coach added.

"We made mistakes in the last game but we've worked on them," said Powell.

Powell said he thought the blocking in the game was pretty consistent and said on the average they stayed at 80 percent.

Outstanding blockers in the opening game were John Robinson, tackle; Jimmy Thriftley, center; and Charles Shull, guard.

Defensively the outstanding players were Troy Flynn, fullback; Chuck Yarbrough, fullback; Jerry Kelly, tail back; and Humberto Anderson, tackle.

According to Powell the team made no interceptions but did recover two fumbles, one by Jimmy Thriftley and one by Jerry Kelly.

Powell said he has no set group to start. He said, "Whoever is looking the best are the kids who are going to play."

"We've worked on pass coverages and our defensive techniques."

"I felt we had a pretty sound game offensively. Our big concern is the defensive mistakes."

"I won't make any predictions," said coach Powell. "But, we try to prepare ourselves."

Bay Area Youth Soccer registration continues

At last Wednesday's board meeting Bay Area Youth Soccer had over 250 youth registered for the 1983/84 soccer season.

Registration is continuing and forms may be picked up at the Waveland Small Animal Hospital, US-90, Waveland, from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 3 to 5:30 p.m. on weekdays.

By the time teams are finalized at next Tuesday's board meeting another 150 youths are expected to be registered.

The registration for girls so far has resulted in an Under-16, an Under-14, an Under-12 and a probable Under-10 team.

The rosters are not yet full, so any girls who would like to have fun and play soccer should complete a registration form.

The initial registration shows that there will be at least four Under-8 teams, six Under-10 teams, five Under-12 teams, two Under-14 teams besides the Select Under-14 team, and an Under-16 team.

There have been a few youths who have shown an interest in an Under-19 team, boys and girls.

These youths are encouraged to get at least 13 like-minded players together so that BAYS can field Under-19 teams as well.

Since soccer is not yet a varsity sport at the local high schools, this is an opportunity for those who have played soccer in the past to continue their participation in this exciting sport.

Wildlife conservation is focus of NRA Hunting And Fishing Day

The importance of conserving America's natural and wildlife resources will be the focus of this year's National Hunting and Fishing Day (NHF Day) scheduled for celebration on Sept. 24.

This program was initiated 12 years ago by the National Shooting Sports Foundation. Each year, a day is designated to introduce the non-hunting and non-fishing public to the benefits of these sports as conservation tools. This year's theme, "A Day for a Lifetime" reflects this objective.

More than 40 of the country's leading conservation organizations will sponsor some 2,500 activities nationwide. Nearly 10 percent of these activities will be sponsored by the National Rifle Association's state and local club affiliates.

Locations for NRA activities will include shopping centers and malls, town parks, county fairgrounds, and shooting clubs. Educational displays, shooting instruction, and reloading will be some of the activities offered.

There are currently more than 20 million hunters in the United States. NHF Day activities provide an opportunity for these experienced hunters to provide educational exposure in the shooting sports for both youngsters and adults alike.

Nearly 14 million individuals are anticipated to participate in a local NHF Day activity.

For further information on an NRA NHF Day activity in your area, contact your local NRA affiliated club. For additional information on planning a local NRA NHF Day in your area, contact NRA's Hunter Services Division at (202) 628-6249 or NRA's Field Services Division at (202) 828-6120.

HNC Student Council reports on enrollment

By RANCE NECAISE
HNC Student Council Reporter
Classes at Hancock North Central School began on Aug. 19, on regular schedule instead of the half-day schedule as last year.

The hot weather seems hard to bare but most of the students are handling it well. There are approximately 690 students registered in the Junior High and High Schools. The approximate number in each of the classes is: 7th grade, 155; 8th grade, 110; 9th grade, 167; 10th grade, 200; 11th grade, 155; 12th grade, 105.

In an attempt to meet the expressed needs of the students and the new guidelines for entrance to 43 universities, HNC has initiated the following courses: Advanced Placement English, World Economic and Political Issues Seminar, French I, Spanish I and II, Parenting, Trigonometry, and Pre-Calculus.

A course in computer literacy will be conducted in cooperation with NASA. Chorus and weight lifting will also be available to the students.

The administration is especially proud of the fact that existing personnel were utilized.

With a staff of 40 faculty members the administration hopes to make this a memorable year for all the students.

Wild horse and burro adoption day scheduled

Wild horses and burros from western public rangelands will again be looking for new homes with residents of Mississippi and neighboring states when the U.S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Land Management (BLM) returns with a temporary wild horse and burro adoption center in the Jackson area, Sept. 21-25.

Approximately 135 wild horses from Wyoming and 25 wild burros from Arizona will be trucked to the Mid-Mississippi Livestock Company show yards in Canton—about 15 miles north of Jackson city limits, and within reasonable driving distance from Shreveport and New Orleans, La.; Birmingham, Ala.; and Pensacola, Fla.

Animal lovers who promise to give good homes to the horses and burros may adopt as many as four animals at the center.

To qualify, applicants must have suitable facilities and means for caring for the animals, and must pay an adoption fee of $165 for each horse and $135 for each burro.

Potential adopters should write to Adopt-a-Horse/Burro Program, Bureau of Land Management, 350 South Pickett Street, Alexandria, Va. 22304; or call (703) 235-2866 or (703) 235-2840 to be screened and set up an appointment to adopt.

Applicants should be sure to include a telephone number so that a wild-horse specialist can contact them with specific adoption information.

Tigers, Pirates in DSC contest

With a 6-0 opening game victory in the bag, the Bay High Tigers are off and running towards what many believe could very well be a Deep South Conference championship year.

The Tigers are noted as a defensive club and the defense won the Stone County game, stopping a late Tomcat threat that carried all the way to the Bay five. A fumble recovery killed the drive.

Friday night the Tigers will face another DSC foe, the Pass Christian Pirates.

Last year Bay High defeated their across the bridge rivals, 32-7.

The Pirates have a new head coach, Kenneth McKinney, a man with 25 years experience. His debut was an unsuccessful one however, losing 21-6 to the D'Iberville Warriors.

Bay High will probably field the same squad as a week ago, no serious injuries were reported from the Stone contest.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at McDonald Stadium.

105 horses and 70 burros were adopted by people in Mississippi and five nearby states during the May event.

Jones continued, "We usually don't return to the same area in such a short time period because we try to find adopters in all of the eastern 31 states. But the people of Mississippi and surrounding states showed such an overwhelming response that we wanted to offer animals to potential adopters who were not able to select an animal last May. We also want to say thanks to those people who helped us last spring and who provided good homes for these excess wild horses and burros that might have suffered from starvation due to overpopulation and inadequate forage."

According to Jones, some 165 Mississippians have already adopted over 285 wild horses and burros through this program. Jones explained that the adoption fees help cover the Federal Government's cost of roundups, veterinary care, transportation, and administrative expenses.

Before shipping east, every animal rounded up by BLM is thoroughly checked by a veterinarian, Coggins tested, and vaccinated for various equine disorders.

For at least 12 months following the adoption, each animal remains U.S. Government property. After that, if the animal has been cared for humanely, the adopter may apply to receive title from BLM.

Spanish conquistadors and missionaries are said to have introduced horses and burros to the Americas in the 1500s.

Indians got their horses and burros from Spanish camps. Through the years, escaped or abandoned animals formed the first wild horse and burro herds.

These first herds were joined by horses that escaped from settlers headed West or released by the cavalry when Army posts were closed.

Later, ranchers released horses they couldn't keep because of scarce food or water.

Burros were used by prospectors and shepherds, later to be abandoned to roam the deserts. Though today's horse and burro herds are wild, they all come from animals that were once tame.

The herds multiplied and a great many roamed the open range. Because of their value as pet food, "mustangers" rounded them up for profit. Herds were often driven to exhaustion and degradation, then sold to canneries. Abuses were common and soon the herds dwindled in size.

Concern over the animals' welfare grew in the 1950s. Efforts by groups and a national letter writing campaign by school children ended in passage of a law in 1971 protecting them.

Today, in order to keep healthy herds in harmony with their environment, BLM rounds-up excess animals and offers them for adoption to caring people. This helps protect the land from deterioration from over-grazing and helps to avoid starvation due to overpopulation and inadequate food supplies.

Presently there are 47,800 wild horses and 12,300 burros on the range in 10 western states. Since 1973, over 46,000 animals have been adopted nationwide.

Adopted wild horses and burros have been used for all the same purposes as domestic animals. Horses have won endurance races, plowing contests, and have made particularly good 4-H projects.

Burros make interesting pets, have been taught to break show calves, and have been used as pack animals. These animals offer the adopter a loyal companion and a link to America's heritage in the old West.

Potential adopters who are unable to select an animal at the Canton temporary adoption site, Sept. 21-25, are encouraged to visit the Cross Plains, Tennessee Adoption Center, currently operated year-round.

Holiday brings warpaint

Rain couldn't dampen Tranquility Indian spirit

By JUNE M. HEYDT

The rain came down in torrents Sunday night but that didn't stop the Indians at Tranquility Trails from going on the warpath. The warpath being a program put on by the owners and staff of Tranquility Trails, a family resort community located on Hwy. 53 just off Hwy. 603 in Hancock County.

Activities director Andy Watson planned the Labor Day weekend program which centered around the Chickasaw Indians who once lived on the very land now used for the camp sites at TT. The program consisted of painting the children of families staying at the camp in warpaint like the Indians of yesteryear (and a couple of fun-loving adults too). After Watson and another staff member, Davis Nicholas, decorated the children they gave them each an Indian name.

For example, a little girl with pigtail who had a butterfly drawn on her was named 'Flying Butterfly.' A little boy with a boat drawn on his back was named 'Sailing Son.'

When the painting was finished and the tribe of Indians were ready for the festivities they all gathered by one of three man-made lakes at the park. When all were seated on logs placed in a circle around a high bonfire, strange things started happening. From the woods came weird cries as though from a wolf. All became quiet. Then—from out of the trees came an Indian stranger, his face looked wicked as the light from the fire caught his devil eyes.

He stalked the fire waving a spear with fire on the tip. He was mean looking. He was obviously the bad guy. With a loud scream the mean Indian attacked Chief Watson, they began to fight. With blazing sticks they hit and swung at each other. Chief Watson was knocked down. All was lost. No! He got back up and threw the bad Indian across the fire. The bare skins of the Indians shimmered as they fought. Good against evil. Who would win? Then it came, the fatal blow. Chief Watson had won; the evil Indian lay dead at his feet. Watson began chanting his victory song. He asked the children to listen closely and translate what he was chanting, "Wah Ta Goo Siam", it wasn't too long before they solved the riddle of the chant, "What a

Following the chant, it grew quiet and eerie as Watson told the children stories of the Chickasaw Indians and how they lived and grew into one of the largest tribes in Mississippi. He told the children of the wonders of the outdoors and told them if they would just listen closely they could hear the music of nature. Watson, who has worked in the recreation field for almost 14 years, said he is in his realm when he is outdoors among the animals and trees.

Ole Miss establishes regional recruiting

When Janie Guice graduated from Biloxi High School in 1970, she was part of a rare breed because she planned to attend college 350 miles away from home.

"There were only three people from my senior class of about 500 who came to Ole Miss," she said. "People from the Coast don't usually go that far away, but that's my job now — to reverse that trend."

Effective July 1, Mrs. Guice became a professional counselor for The University of Mississippi.

Jeff Davis to offer floral design course

Floral design for beginners, an eight-week course in floral arranging, will be taught at Gulf Coast Junior College's Jefferson Davis Campus beginning on Tuesday, Sept. 20.

Registration for the class, offered through the Continuing Education Department, will be at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 13, in the campus student center.

Instructor Mrs. Frances DiDomenico of Ocean Springs will teach students to make corsages, floral bows, boutonnieres, seven basic flower designs, bud vase arrangements, color coordinaand will be responsible for providing information concerning admission requirements to Ole Miss, financial aid, courses of study, and other facets of University life to individuals throughout a 14 county area, designated the Coastal region.

Counties under Mrs. Guice's jurisdiction include Forrest, George, Greene, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Lamar, Marion, Pearl River, Pike, Perry, Stone, Walthall and Wayne.

She will visit high schools and junior colleges in the region, conduct meetings with prospective students and parents, coordinate the distribution of printed information, and arrange campus visits and tours for interested individuals.

A statewide effort, the new Ole Miss counseling plan will place a total of four counselors in special districts created by the University instead of in the Oxford area only. Other counselors are stationed in Greenwood, Jackson and Meridian, with three remaining on the Ole Miss Campus.

The appointment of regional counselors was designed to promote added efficiency of the counseling staff while providing improved counseling services to the public.

A 1973 magna cum laude graduate of Ole Miss, Mrs. Guice earned a bachelor science degree in education and taught high school home economics for five years before retiring to become a full-time housewife and mother.

She and her husband, Danny Guice Jr., have two sons, Danny III and Nicholas.

"It's such a rare opportunity to be able to work for Ole Miss 350 miles away from campus," Mrs. Guice said. "Things at the University really look good and I want people on the Coast to know about that."

All inquiries and requests for information and scheduling appointments should be addressed to Mrs. Guice at P.O. Box 8324, North Biloxi, MS 39532, telephone, 392-6479.

Southern tells faculty additions

The University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast will have four new faculty for 1983-84 in the areas of business administration, computer science and criminal justice.

William Allen Bush will be an assistant professor of computer science. Bush comes to USM from Corpus Christi State University where he was a computer science instructor.

A graduate of Gulfport High, he attended Perkinson Junior College, Auburn University and Corpus Christi State University where he received BS and MS degrees in computer science.

Dr. James Carroll, new professor of business administration, was formerly professor and head of the Department of Marketing at the University of Southwestern Louisiana.

He received a BA from Vanderbilt University, MBA from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga and PhD from the University of Alabama. Carroll was director of the Small Business Institute at USL.

Dr. Thomas A. Kevin, a native of New York City, will be an assistant professor of criminal justice. He received BA from the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, Mass., and MA and PhD from the University of South Carolina.

At summer commencement he will receive an MS in criminal justice from USM.

Kevin was a special agent, Florida Department of Law Enforcement in Tampa before becoming an instructor and their assistant professor at USC.

Brief

USM SCHOLARS

The University of Southern Mississippi's summer term President's and Dean's Lists have been released and local scholars who made a 4.0 grade point average (all A's) are included on the President's List. Students who made a 3.25 GPA or above are listed on the Dean's List.

President's list scholars are listed first, followed by Dean's list students.

Hancock County: Bay St. Louis. President's: Ellie Madeline Battalora, Marsha Frances C. Garziano, Amy Alison Hille, Julia J. Payne. Dean's: Michael Riley Barnes, Pamela Florence Favre, James Kenna Ferrell, Glenn D. France, Paula Lynn Jackson, Michelle Mae McMillen, Aline Virginia Milazzo, Fran Marie Sallinger, Thomas Connaughton, Schmidt, Annette Marie Scianna, Melvin George Ulmer III, John Patrick Wild.

Lakeshore. Dean's: Kay Marie Belson McGovern, Vickie L. Necaise Walsh.

READING CENTER

The University of Southern Mississippi-Gulf Park Reading Center has announced the continuation of a program designed for children with reading difficulties.

Parents interested in the program are urged to contact Dr. Nancy Maszlat at the Gulf Park Reading Center, 630 E. Beach Blvd., Long Beach, MS 39560, or telephone (601) 863-6232.

University teaching defensive driving

Last year, traffic accidents accounted for more than 50,000 deaths, nearly 2 million disabling injuries and approximately $12 billion in property damage, according to the National Safety Council.

The Department of Health and Safety Education at the University of Southern Mississippi will be offering a Defensive Driving Course.

The course sponsored by the National Safety Council is part of their campaign to reduce the toll of human deaths, human suffering and economic loss due to traffic accidents through the teaching of accident-guidance techniques.

In the course, participants will learn how to avoid weather-related accidents, mystery crashes and collisions with other vehicles, pedestrians, cyclists and fixed objects.

The participants will also learn how to deal with the unexpected on open country roads, rush-hour expressways and urban side streets.

Sam Soukup, instructor in the Department of Health and Safety Education at USM, will direct the course. He has 15 years experience in the safety field and has completed the National Safety Council's instructor course held in Chicago. Soukup is one of very few qualified instructors in the state.

A second part of the Defensive Driving Course is planned in the future as a refresher for the first course offered in the fall. The time and place of this course will be announced at a future date.

The first course will be offered Sept. 29-30 and Nov. 3-4. Each course will be from 2-4 p.m. on the first day and 8 a.m.-4 p.m. on the second day.

Pre-registration is required as enrollment for each course is limited to 30 participants. Registration deadline is Sept. 23 and Oct. 28.

Registration will be held in room 203 of the McCain Graduate Library at 12:30 p.m. on the first day of each course.

For further information, contact Conferences and Workshop, Southern Station Box 5055, Hattiesburg, MS 39406 or call 266-4183.

The word pencil originally referred to a painter's brush. When the modern pencil came into use in the late 17th century, it was known as a "dry pencil."

UNO opens 25th anniversary celebration

The University of New Orleans began the celebration of its Silver Anniversary Year with an inaugural program Tuesday, 25 years and one day after it opened in 1958.

The ceremony, reminiscent of UNO's opening day convocation in 1958, featured three of that first convocation's program participants—Dr. Homer L. Hitt, UNO chancellor emeritus and founding chancellor; Theo F. Cangelosi, chairman emeritus, Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors; and the Rev. J. D. Grey, pastor emeritus, First Baptist Church of New Orleans.

Dr. Hitt presided and Cangelosi discussed UNO's future at the first convocation. During the anniversary program, they discussed UNO's early days along with Professor Emeritus of History Joseph G. Tregle Jr., one of UNO's first faculty members, and Baton Rouge businessman Andrew Flores, a member of the first student body.

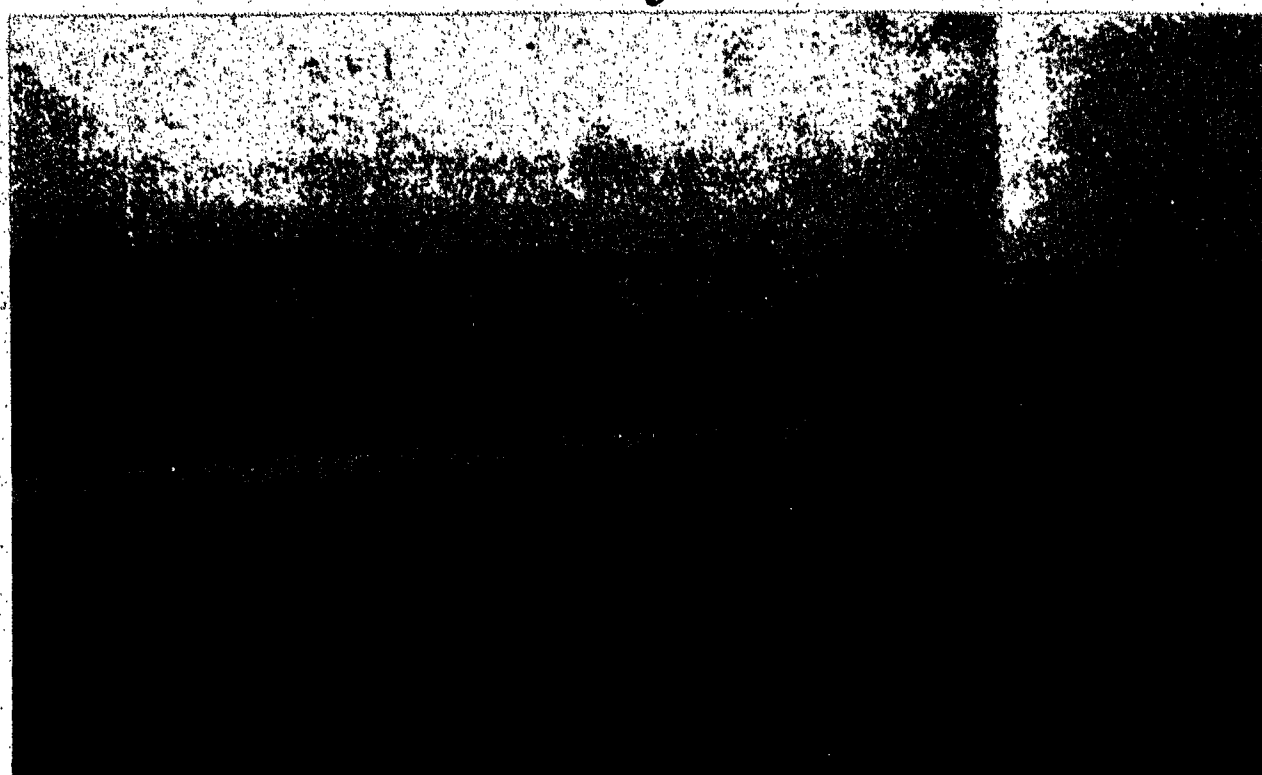

Cangelosi, who was a member of the LSU Board from 1950 to 1970 and Board chairman from 1958 to 1960, received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree during the program "for his contributions to the creation and advancement" of UNO.

The Rev. Grey, who gave the university its first benediction in 1958, gave the invocation at the anniversary program. The Rev. Thomas C. Dowling, Chaplain, UNO Newman Center, gave the anniversary benediction.

A member of the LSU system, UNO was originally established as Louisiana State University in New Orleans (LSUNO). It was renamed The University of New Orleans in 1974. The campus in 1958 was composed of a few military barracks, left from its days as a Naval air station. In fact, the first convocation was held in an aircraft hangar, the site of which is marked by a monument in which a time capsule, containing various documents and memorabilia was sealed in 1966.

During the anniversary program a film was shown of the recent opening of the capsule and the presentation of its contents to Mrs. Helen G. Crawford, member and chairman, Faculty and Studies Committee, LSU Board of Supervisors.

Crawford read several of the documents, which included copies of the 1956 legislative act creating LSUNO, the Levee Board lease of the lakefront property to the university and a report by the Committee for Planning LSUNO.

At the close of UNO's silver anniversary year, new documents will be inserted in the time capsule, which will be resealed in the monument, and be reopened on UNO's 50th anniversary in 2008.

Norris V. Fitzmorris, chairman, LSU Board's UNO Committee, closed the anniversary program with a talk on "The Next Quarter Century: A look Ahead."

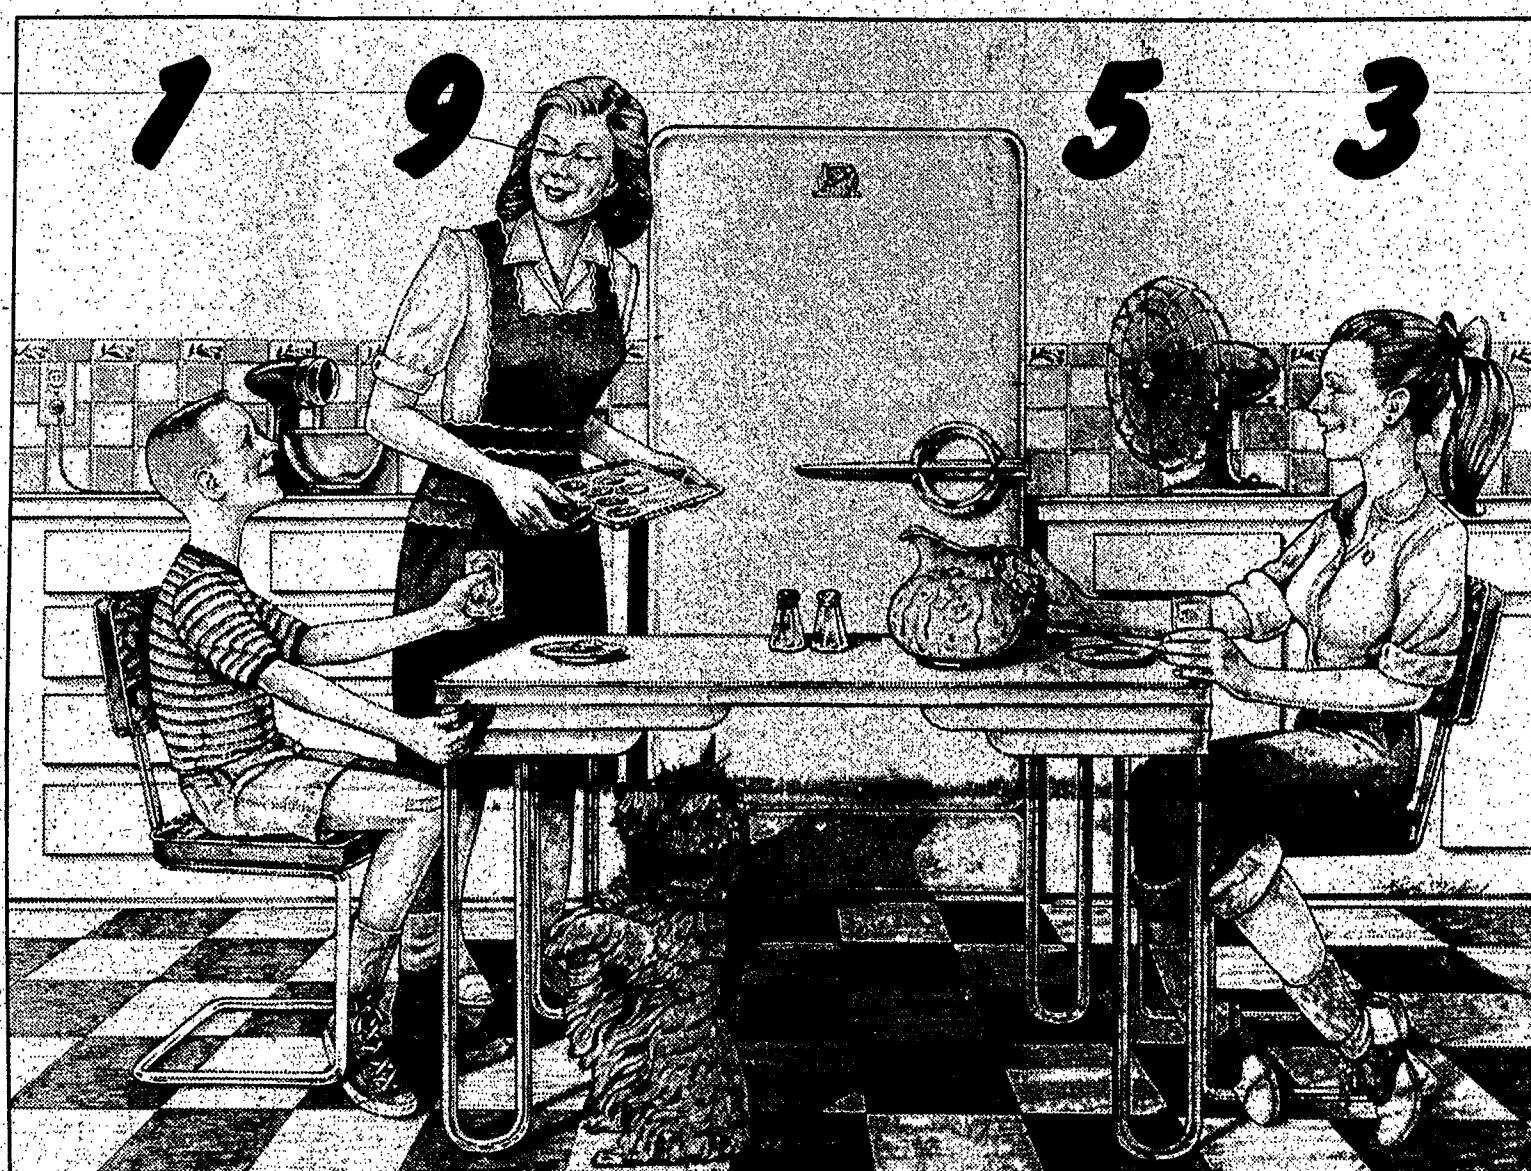

UNO Acting Chancellor Cooper R. Mackin presided over the program and Dr.

Martin D. Woodin, LSU professor of music, sang the National Anthem.

Following the convocation there was a jambalaya picnic for the UNO community on the north lawn of the University Center.

The university will celebrate its 25th anniversary with various activities throughout the 1983-84 academic year. Upcoming events include a Commitment to Excellence lecture series, a U.S. Air Force 36th Birthday celebration and salute to UNO, and Nostalgia Series programs.

IT WAS SIMPLE TO KEEP COOL. ELECTRIC FANS. LEMONADE. AND MOST AIR CONDITIONING WAS AT THE MOVIES.

Fighting stopped in Korea. Old Casey's Yankees beat Brooklyn's Dodgers for a record fifth straight World Series. 3-D movies were the new craze. Greasers, pony tails, and the bunny hop were the rage. And attic fans were the last word in home cooling comfort.

It's hard to realize it now, thirty years later. But, home air conditioning used to be very rare—only for the well-to-do.

Today, it's so commonplace, most of us think it's a necessity. And our grandparents would be amazed to see us getting through a summer's day in southeast Mississippi without even working up a sweat.

That's why, today, air conditioning counts for about half of your summer electricity bill. And Mississippi Power customers use about 20% more electricity than the national average—specifically because of air conditioning.

You're paying more because you're purchasing more kilowatt-hours. And because we're paying more to make and deliver electricity to you.

Can we offer you any comfort? This chart illustrates what has happened to other consumer costs during the last thirty years.

Item	1953	1983
Paint Ball	1¢	16¢
White Bread	1¢	25¢
Gasoline	1¢	35¢
Movie Ticket	1¢	15¢
Home Purchase	1¢	20¢

Also, while our average cost of fuel per kilowatt-hour has more than quadrupled since 1953, our price per kilowatt-hour has barely doubled since 1953. Most other goods and services cost much more.

And that's why it's so cool about power. It's the only way to keep your home cool and comfortable.

Divide by the number of days each month and the number of people in your household. The result is your average electricity cost per person, per day, and might look something like this:

Electricity	1¢
Gas	1¢
Water	1¢
Food	1¢
Shelter	1¢
Transportation	1¢
Health	1¢
Education	1¢
Recreation	1¢
Communication	1¢
Other	1¢

Electricity from Mississippi Power: Good value in '83. A better value in '83. Even with the air conditioner keeping you very, very cool.

Don't let the heat get to you. Call your local Mississippi Power office for more information.

BUYING PINE CONES

I've got some good news this week—the pine cones are back!

Now, you probably won't get too excited over this or you're probably thinking something like "I didn't know they were gone," or "I wish they hadn't come back. They just made a mess in the yard anyway."

But we foresters and many timberland owners have reason to be excited over the news, because pine cones have been scarce for the last four or five years, and it was beginning to cause some problems.

Now you're probably wondering what problems a scarcity of pine cones could cause? The answer is simple—a reforestation problem. The pine cone is the source of seed for planting tree nurseries, aerial seeding of cut-over timberlands, and natural regeneration.

Each year, State Forestry Commission nurseries grow between 60 and 80 million pine seedlings. The U.S. Forest Service and timber companies grow millions more.

Additionally, thousands of acres of cut-over timberland are reforested by sowing pine seeds from aircraft. It takes a lot of pine cones to produce all these seeds!

There wouldn't be much of a problem if we could count on a good cone crop each year, but pine trees don't always behave as we would like. It's not unusual for them to produce a bumper crop one year, followed by several years of very poor cone production.

We had a fair crop in 1981, but we have not had a really good crop since 1978, and our supply of seed is about exhausted. In fact, we were not able to sell seed last year for direct seeding. Landowners who direct seeded had to purchase their seed from private companies.

Since cone production looks good statewide, we're planning to buy as many as possible. Those not needed immediately will be put in cold storage for future use.

We will be taking only green, unopened slash pine cones. Once the scales separate and the seed begin to fall from the cones, we will stop buying them. Please don't bring us old dead pine cones. We can't buy these.

The easiest way to collect pine cones is to pick them from the tops of freshly cut pine trees on a logging site. Local loggers, timber companies, or your county forester may help you locate one. Before you begin picking, be sure you get the landowner's permission.

You'll need gloves, five-gallon buckets, and gunny sacks. With this year's unusually good crop, you should be able to get up to two bushels of cones from some of the larger trees. Before you bring the cones to us, remove excess straw, sticks and any deformed cones.

Our nursery workers have been keeping a close eye on the progress of these cones for maturity and have decided it's time for collection. So, we will begin collecting cones at our tower on Firetower Road north of Kiln starting about 9 a.m. Tuesday.

We will be paying $3.50 per bushel for slash pines at this time. Please wait for further word before collecting longleaf pine cones.

HOME MILDEW

Mildew around the home is a frequent problem today in areas hit by the recent floods.

Advice about how to get rid of mildew is given by Frances Fortenberry, specialist in equipment and housing of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Some mild cases of mildew can be removed with a stiff brush. It comes off easily and leaves no stain. Repainting with a mildew-resistant paint should end any worries.

For severe cases, scrub the infested area thoroughly with a solution of chlorine bleach.

Use one-half to one cup of bleach to each gallon of water. Rinse with clear water and wipe the surface as dry as possible.

This method can be used for cement floors, wall tiles and all types of floor tiles. Work quickly and carefully on plastic and asphalt tile to avoid spotting the surface.

For mildewed wood surfaces, first try a solution of four to six tablespoons of washing soda to a gallon of water. Scrub well and then rinse with clear water.

If this doesn't work on wood, use one of two solutions. Mix four to six tablespoons of trisodium phosphate cleanser and two tablespoons of household ammonia per gallon of water or mix four to six tablespoons of trisodium phosphate cleanser and one cup of liquid chlorine bleach per gallon of water. After using either, rinse and dry thoroughly before repainting.

If a plastered wall is mildewed, scrub it with a solution of two tablespoons of formaldehyde in one gallon of water. Allow to dry before painting or papering. Allow walls to be papered to dry, then size. Add one tablespoon of formaldehyde in one cup of water to each pail of wallpaper paste.

For mildewed asbestos siding and other surfaces here's another suggestion: two-thirds of a cup of trisodium phosphate cleanser (a strong alkaline cleanser), one-third cup of heavy duty detergent, one quart of chlorine bleach (five percent sodium hypochlorite), three quarts of warm water.

Use this solution without diluting to remove mildew and dirt. For best results, scrub with a medium soft brush. When the surface is clean, rinse thoroughly with fresh water from a hose.

Coast dance auditions scheduled in Biloxi

The Gulf Coast Dance Theatre will conduct auditions Saturday, Sept. 10 at the Magnolia Hotel in Biloxi.

The apprentice company class audition will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the company class audition will begin at 11 a.m.

Results will be posted immediately after each audition. All dancers are welcome to participate in these tryouts.

The Gulf Coast Dance Theatre offers classes in both jazz and ballet six days weekly.

The next major production of the Dance Theatre will be the Nutcracker Ballet Dec. 9, 10 and 11 at the Saenger Theater in Biloxi.

For information concerning the audition contact Mrs. Norman Montgomery in Diamondhead, 255-5209.

The Gulf Coast Dance Theatre is a non-profit tax-exempt organization providing pre-professional dance training for area dancers.
